What can parents do to help teens avoid alcohol, marijuana and other drugs?

- You are the most powerful influence on whether your child or teen chooses to use drugs.
- Talk early and often about the risks. Get tips for how to talk with your child and stay better connected at www.Start.TalkingNow.org.
- Model healthy choices for your child.
- Set clear rules against alcohol and drug use, and enforce reasonable consequences.
- Reward positive and healthy choices.
- Stay involved in your child's life: eat dinner together, know who their friends are, keep track of what they are doing.
- Be aware of the signs and take action if you think your teen is using. Talk to your school's counselor, or get information about other resources in your area by calling the Washington Recovery Help Line at 1-866-789-1511.

Teen Prescription Misuse and Abuse for Kittitas County in 2014

Background:

- Prescription drug abuse is when someone takes a medication that was prescribed for someone else or takes their own prescription in a way not intended by a doctor---like to stay awake, or "to get high".
- Prescription drugs that affect the brain, including opioid pain killers, stimulants, and depressants, may cause physical dependence that can turn into addiction.
- Most teens get prescription drugs they abuse from friends and relatives, sometimes without the person knowing.
- Prescription drug abuse has become an important health issue, particularly the danger of abusing prescription pain medications.

What can parents of caregivers do to prevent teen prescription misuse and abuse?

- Talk to your children about what you do to stay healthy, and, if you use medications, why they are safe for your personal use and not for them.
- Talk to your teen about the dangers of prescription drug misuse. Learn more at www.stopoverdose.org.
- Keep the most commonly abused prescription drugs (painkillers, sedatives and stimulants) in a lock box.
- Properly dispose of unused or expired medications.

For More Information:

- Learn more at www.drugfree.org
- Call the Washington Recovery Help Line for 24-hour confidential crisis counseling and referrals: 1-866-789-1511
